The young ladies of the Episcopal Altar Guild will have a candy sale at Bacon's Drug Store Saturday afternoon, October 18.

Dance Tomorrow—It has been decided by the Herman Bang Lodge, No. 291, of the Danish Brotherhood, to give a dancing party every month during the fall and winter. The last party held was a successful one and for that reason the lodge will make the dance a monthly affair. The next dance will be held tomorrow evening at the Moose hall, dancing to begin at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge of the next dance is composed of Christian Nelson, William Dick, Frank Telleman, Christian Peterson and Harry Anchor.

Hess' Blue Ribbon Bread put on the scale weighs more than any other bread on the market.

Dog Injured—A valuable dog, owned by Frank Turner, manager of the Dupont Powder company at San Francisco, was injured when Mr. Turner was leading the dog from the baggage car. His hind leg was caught in the door and broken. Dr. Fred Parker was given the care of the dog and he will send it to the owner when the leg has mended.

A social dance will be given tonight at the new Five Points dancing academy under the auspices of the Lynne ward.

Washing Machine Company—Articles of incorporation of the Sanitary Washer Manufacturing company have been filed with the county clerk. The new company will operate a factory in Ogden to make and sell washing machines. The company is capitalized for $25,000 in 25,000 shares of $1 each. J. D. Avery of Omaha, M. T. Jameson of Ogden, O. A. Kennedy of Ogden, W. R. Skeen of Ogden and August Troilicht of Ogden are the incorporators. The company takes over the patent rights to a sanitary washer, held by Mr. Avery, for $10,000.

STATE HAS A STRONG CASE

The gunmen were brought into court and William Riley, the next witness identified "Whitey" Lewis and "Dago Frank" as the men who rented apartments from him under the name of Gordon some time after June 10.

Max Margolis, who described himself as a "hitter" for newspapers testified that he had known Becker for five months and was present at the so-called "fake raid" made by Becker on Rosenthal's gambling house and saw Becker there. Becker had asked him to enter the house and be ready to swear out affidavits, he said, as to what he saw in the house as evidence that Rosenthal was keeping a gambling house.

Three Iron Doors.
"He told me that I'd be let inside the house from three iron doors in the basement and that I'd be taken up stairs and would see some roulette wheels."

The witness said he was unable to affect an entrance by the method described and so he went in with the raiders.

"They were breaking down the door," said Margolis, "when I heard Mrs. Rosenthal say, 'Wait a minute, I'll let you in.'"

"After we got in I heard Mrs. Rosenthal ask Why, Charley, what are you doing? Becker then took her into a back room and held a conversation with her."

On cross-examination Mr. McIntyre attacked the character of the witness. Margolis denied that he ever had been charged with theft or that he was a "stool pigeon" for the police. He said, however, that at the behest of Becker he had entered a racing pool room to get evidence.

Admits Perjury.
Attorney McIntyre, forced from Margolis a flat admission that he committed perjury when he swore in his affidavit that he made bets in this pool room.

"Did Becker give you $50 when you went to play in Rosenthal's gambling place?"

"Yes."

"Did you play it?"

"No."

"Did you give the $50 back?"

"No."

Mr. McIntyre asked the court to commit the witness to jail on the ground that he had admitted the commission of perjury.

"I submit that this is irregular," shouted Assistant State Attorney Whitman.

"It's justice," retorted Becker's lawyer, "and him before the grand jury."

Margolis, however, was excused.

SENDS RED ROSE TO ROOSEVENT

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Colonel Roosevelt was deeply touched yesterday by a message sent by Miss Mary Kelly, 18 years old, a patient in the same hospital. A red rose accompanied the note, which expressed the wish for Mr. Roosevelt's early recovery. He asked that the flower be placed in a vase on the dressing case in his room and then sent Miss Kelly, who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, a cheering answer. Miss Kelly's note reads:

"Dear Mr. Roosevelt: I am the little girl of the suite above you. I send you this red rose with my sincere wishes for your speedy recovery. I am just recovering from an operation for appendicitis and am doing nicely. Lots of times I wake up in the night and wonder if you are resting well. I hope so. Sincerely,

"MARY KELLY."

BEDIENT PITCHED FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Warren, Pa., Oct. 16.—Hugh Bedient, the Red Sox twirler, made his first appearance in Warren with the Falconer high school team against the Warren Independents. Bedient attracted the attention of R. J. Scumacher, manager of the Warren team. Later when he booked two games with the Meadville intercollegiate teams, he telephoned to Bedient:

"I have two games for today, but only one pitcher. I'll give you $1 and expenses to come and pitch the afternoon game."

"No," was the answer. "But make it $1.50 and I'll go."

That was the first game Bedient ever pitched for money and he won. Later he broke the record for strikeouts, pitching a game of twenty-two innings at Corry, in which twenty-four batters were struck out.

ALWAYS DID LIKE TEDDY

Gov. Wilson Says Fight on Roosevelt Never Was Personal

Georgetown, Del., Oct. 17.—Governor Wilson campaigned through Delaware today, deploring in all his speeches the attack on Colonel Roosevelt and confining himself to state issues.

"It is with reluctance," he said here, "that I continue to campaign at the present time because I feel the whole country must feel greatly the shock at the attack on Colonel Roosevelt. I myself have been very much saddened because I have never felt personal opposition to Mr. Roosevelt. I am fighting issues and I am sorry to see the chief spokesman of one set of issues kept out of the campaign."

"We have had no pilot for the last four years," said the governor. "The ship of state has been wallowing in the trough of the sea. I don't know whether the helm is strapped or not. I have not been aboard. Now, do you want another four years of drifting?"

"Can any one doubt the justification for growing discontent in this country? If there has been prosperity without guidance is it not essential to have prosperity with guidance?"

Governor Wilson referred to the panic of 1907 "as an exclusive Republican panic—one that the Republican and personal charge of and personally conducted."

ROSE STORY SUPPORTED

Wife of Lefty Louie Testifies For State in Becker Case

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Lillian Rosenberg, wife of "Lefty Louie," one of the four gun men charged with shooting Herman Rosenthal to death was a witness for the state today in the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker.

The district attorney's intention to place her on the stand was unanimously and Becker's counsel made vigorous but futile attempts to bar her testimony from the record.

Mrs. Rosenberg's testimony was corroborative of a portion of the testimony of "Bald Jack" Rose. She said that Rose had come with Sam Schepps to her home on May 12 to see "Louie" about helping to get bail for Jack Zelig, the gang leader killed the other day, who had just been arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Mrs. Rosenberg added on cross-examination that she was not testifying to help her husband or with the hope of his receiving leniency.

Two telephone operators, one at a public station, the other at the apartment house where Becker lived, testified that Becker received a call in the early morning hours of the day of the murder.

William Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York, may be called as a witness for the defense in the trial of Police Lieutenant Becker, charged with the murder of Gambler Rosenthal. It was said today.

Lillian Rosenberg, wife of "Lefty Louie," one of the gunmen charged with the actual slaying of Rosenthal testified that she had been at Rockaway beach until July 14 and there met "Gyp, the Blood," his wife, "Dago Frank," "Whitey Lewis" and others she did not recall. At her home in Southern Boulevard she had met Jack Rose, Schepps, "Dago Frank," "Gyp the Blood" and "Whitey Lewis," who was living with her husband and her.

"Where was your husband on the night of the murder?" Mr. McIntyre asked in cross-examination.

"I don't know."

"Where were you?"

"At home."

"Since your husband's arrest have you mentioned in letters that you would testify for the state?"

"When did you see Schepps?"

"In June I saw Jack Rose and him at my house."

"Did you hear any talk between your husband and Schepps that day?"

"Yes; they were talking about twenty minutes. Louie was sick in bed and Schepps came to see him with Jack Rose."

"What did you see Schepps again?"

"Never."

TO PRACTICE IN CORNELL SHELLS

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Syracuse University's navy, which was deprived of all its shells by the tornado that swept over the northern part of Syracuse a few weeks ago, will practice in Cornell shells for the balance of the season. The manager of Syracuse has bought the 1907 and 1907 shells that carried the crews which won the eight-oared races on the Hudson. A double-oared shell also was purchased of the local management.

PURDUE COLLEGE EXPECTS TO WIN

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 17.—Opposes Horst and Moll of Purdue were optimistic last night over the outcome of the game to be played here Saturday with Wisconsin. Horst said Wisconsin was due for one of the biggest surprises in her life.

"We may not win," he said, "but we are not in the game to lose. If Purdue has not got a winning team this year then she will never have one."

COLONIES ARE CUT OFF BY REBELS

El Paso, Oct. 17.—All communication with the Chihuahua Mormon colonies has been cut off by the rebels, who approached within 100 miles of Juarez Tuesday night and burned a bridge at Sabinal. This cuts off the Mormons from all communication with their former homes and has again discouraged the little band which had planned to return in spite of the rebels. The railroad and telegraph was cut to prevent assistance reaching John T. Cameron, the cattleman at El Paso, who was en route to Colonia Diaz to purchase Mormon cattle.

Cameron has been held for ransom since Sunday and although the $5,000 demanded has been sent he is still being held a prisoner at San Pedro, Chihuahua. The rebels in this vicinity are in command of General Ynes Salazar and are raiding the country and looting wherever possible.

American Consul Dye of Agua Prieta has completed his investigation of affairs at the Morelos colony in Sonora and is making his return trip by way of El Tigre, where he will also make an inspection of the damage done there by the rebels in their attack. Consul Dye went to Morelos in spite of the protests of the federal commanders and has insisted upon making a list of everything that was destroyed there in order that the Mormons' claims may not be disputed.

New York Stocks.

New York, Oct. 17.—The advance in the British discount rates and evident uncertainty regarding the Amalgamated Copper dividend, were deterrent factors in today's irregular market. Amalgamated was at once the most active and the most erratic feature, declining almost two points from yesterday's close and then recovering much of its loss. Other leaders fluctuated more narrowly with some heaviness in Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific & Steel. Various specialties were again to the fore, notably Mexican Petroleum, Beet Sugar, Corn products common and preferred, and the tobacco subsidiaries. Bonds were steady.

The market closed heavy. Trading languished in the last hour until Amalgamated's increased dividend became known. Moderate activity then ensued although Amalgamated failed to touch its best price of the morning, while other active issues showed increased heaviness.
